Pagan Practices, Customs And Roots Of The Catholic Church

This article is primarily a list of materials on the Internet that explain the pagan origins of many practices and teachings in Roman Catholicism and its Orthodox off-shoots. The Catholic Church typically responds to information like this with statements like “We get our customs from sacred tradition”, ignoring very real evidence of pagan influence in secular history, including many pagan drawings, writings, statues and other pagan artifacts. If you are a Catholic and are offended with the reality of pagan religious ideas and artifacts being absorbed into Catholicism – then you apparently haven’t carefully researched this matter yet. I hope you will do the research it takes to draw correct conclusions.— RM Kane
