True Christianity seeks to ensure that all Christian teaching (doctrine) and Christian living is in agreement with Scripture (the Bible). The Protestant Reformation came about with this purpose in mind… an attempt – by many Catholic priests, monks and other Catholics – to reform (correct) the Catholic church to be in line with bible teachings. This is where the expression "Sola Scriptura" comes from – which is Latin for Scripture Alone. The teachers and preachers who grew of out this "protestant" movement were protesting against many serious religious issues of their time:
First and foremost: false teachings about salvation
False teachings about God, Mary, Jesus and man's own spiritual condition
Serious abuses of power in the Catholic leadership
Morally corrupt church leaders
