

Generation Z - The Last Generation

I've read a lot about Generation X in the papers in the recent past which is apparently a term used to describe the generation of young people who came after the baby-boomer generation. Well I wish to 'blow the trumpet' announcing Generation Z, the last generation before our civilization slips into total anarchy. This is the generation of children coming onto the scene who kill other children without any remorse whatsoever. They think its cool to listen to Satanic rock music that glorifies violence and death. They enjoy playing video games where you assassinate your opponent in a bloody martial arts battle. They might even try to kill you if you try to take their music from them or their video games from them. They have no concern for the consequences of their actions. They have no direction in their lives. They are cold and distant and appear to have no concept of love and do not understand why they should have any consideration or respect for others. Here is the formula for Generation Z:

- First, remove the most revered book of all history (the Bible) from public schools, a book that provides the most tried and true set of healthy moral standards known to the human race.
- Second, remove prayer from public schools and act as if it was something evil, to be avoided like the plague.
- Once Biblical standards and influences are removed from schools, redefine what is right and what is wrong through a program of situational ethics, disregarding any concern for the long term consequences of our actions and the affects on those around us.
- Then teach children the value of using condoms and clean IV needles rather than taking them on field trips to cemeteries, prisons, skid row, VD clinics and AIDS hospices to show them the truth about unhealthy lifestyles.
- Pass laws allowing the destruction of children in their mother's wombs then question why children today don't seem to have any kind of moral compass to guide them.
- Hold debates about death and dying while people are assisting with the death of the elderly when they could instead be assisting with the love, caring and pain control.
- Spend more money on police when you already have enacted laws that tie the hands of police so that they cannot arrest anyone and cannot use evidence against them.
- Ban guns, which are the most reliable option of defense that citizens have nowadays, when you already know that criminals are capable of killing someone with a ball point pen or a kitchen knife if they really wanted to (more people are murdered and assaulted with knives than with guns).

- Redefine marriage so that even the most perverted in our society can adopt children.

- Demand freedom of expression and ban any kind of censorship to the point where children in your own home are exposed to violence and pornography every day, all day long.

- Vote for leaders who are as blind spiritually and as interested in acquiring money to solve problems as you are.

- Sit down and watch TV in all your spare moments instead of spending time doing something of value to become a positive role model for your family and your community.

- Tell yourself that you and your spouse need to work more to get that newer house, car or appliance instead of sacrificing those material things for quality time with each other and your children. Then tell yourself that you are doing it for the children who spend more time with strangers than with you.

- Talk to your spouse like he or she was your worst enemy, then wonder why your children don't respect you or each other.

- Spend your Sundays worshipping at the shrine of materialism (stores and malls) then wonder why your children are always asking you for money and material things.

- Believe everything that the secular media feeds you instead of being involved enough in the world around you to know that they usually severely distort the truth.

- Create Gods (and millionaires) out of dysfunctional self-centered people, like most rock stars, movie stars and sports figures who can't even run their own lives.

- Avoid the God of the Bible at all costs. Spend time thinking and talking about anything else, but avoid any talk about eternity and the meaning of life. Read any book but the Bible.

“There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother. There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness. There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up. There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.” [Proverbs 30:11-14]
