

Smarter Than God

“There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.”
[Proverbs 16:25]

What an amazing day and age in which we live! Man has evolved so much that he is now smarter than God! He has learned that the universe is billions of years old, even though all the facts contradict this finding if you bother to study creation science. He has learned that if one theory of evolution doesn't hold up, you continue to ignore the facts, and invent an even more preposterous theory based on even more false assumptions than the previous theory.

He has learned that a baby isn't a baby unless you kill it at least 9 months after conception. He has learned that the death penalty is an inhumane punishment for murderers and other nice folks. He has learned that censorship is bad because it prevents perverts from exploiting women and children, and he has evolved into a pervert that does not want to be told what is right or wrong. He has learned that homosexuality is just an alternative lifestyle even though AIDS, VD, suicide, drug use and other serious health problems are disproportionately high in this wonderful segment of society. He has learned that you don't need to enforce existing laws when it is more fun to invent new ones like the Brady Bill and Megan's Law. He has learned that plea bargaining is a great way to save the taxpayers time and money on public defenders and associated court fees even though the victims were never given a chance to plea bargain with their tormenters and murderers.

He has learned that gambling is a great way for the government to obtain money from its citizens by turning them into paupers who need the money that the government is robbing them of. He has learned that all religions are valid, even though one may contradict another.

He has learned that young children are creatures you drop off at a day care center to spend time with strangers and disease carrying toddlers. Older children are creatures you drop off at an institution that teaches them all the vices of the worst offspring of modern society. He has learned that when these creatures become rebellious and unmanageable, you simply blame the strangers in the institutions, instead of the man in the mirror.

He has learned that it is the government's job to take care of all his needs such as health care, education, and retirement income, while they take far more of your income in taxes than you will ever get back from all their "assistance" programs. He has learned that he has become more advanced than his ancestors even though he has yet to figure out how the ancients designed and built various structures without the use of modern machines or computers.

He has learned that TV is all you need in life to be happy. It baby-sits your kids. It is entertaining. It takes your mind off of things you don't want to think about (even if you need to think about other things). It informs you of things you now think you need, things that the world lived without since the beginning of time. It teaches you to like certain kinds of behavior that primitive humans of 30 years ago would have considered revolting.

And lastly, the brilliant mind of today's evolved man has learned how to cure everything except death. And regarding death, he has learned that it is compassionate to kill certain unhealthy people in society, unless he happens to be the unhealthy person.

The truth is, man is evolving into a bigger fool, who can no longer see the disastrous effects of living life without the unwavering and undeniably effective moral compass of the Bible, written by the inspiration of a God and Savior who is far smarter than the prideful and rebellious creatures He created and whom He is patiently bearing with - until the day of their ultimate appointment with Him arrives.

“Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things. Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves: Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.”
[Romans 1:22-25]
