

No Place For Truth

“In our day it has become quite fashionable to believe as little as possible. Phrases like “we love Jesus in our church, not doctrine” are common. It is now seen as judgmental to correct anyone for error. H. Richard Niebuhr once described the modern gospel as consisting of a “God without wrath bringing people without sin into a kingdom without judgment through a Christ without a cross.” As David Wells has so aptly entitled his book, in our day there is No Place for Truth.”
