

Morning Poem for Violators

by James Riscinti

Our debt is more than we can bear, as it should, God's Law will tear.
As violators, one & all,
dead in sin from the fall,
leaves us helpless & depraved,
in the need of being saved.
This serious state, you can not see unless God's Spirit enters thee.
For if God opens up your eyes, you will see why Jesus died.
For it's only by God's Sovereign Grace, that the Remnant can escape.
Sold out in bondage & wanting to stay, until God takes your sin debt away.
