

Special

by James Riscinti

The way you're created and all you've been through,
makes you special, makes you, you.

There's peace content when we see,
that all in all was meant to be.

But peace content soon departs,
when woulda coulda shoulda enters a heart.

We're God's orchestration, and not our own,
and when complete, God takes us home.
