Protestant Martyrs And The Bloody Inquisitions Of The Catholic Church

One of the most neglected areas of knowledge in the modern church is that of the Protestant martyrs. It seems that when we speak of the history of Christendom we omit the fact that the Roman Catholic Church during the middle ages murdered thousands of true Christians. I would not doubt for a minute this is intentional since so many of the so-called, self-appointed "Christian Leaders" of today are courting the Roman Church. Rome, right down to today, has been the outright enemy of true Christianity. The blood of the Protestant martyrs flowed generously at the hand of their Roman Catholic tormentors. Rome has never backed down from her satanic desire to bring all religions under her despotic rule. Rome did not succeed in the middle ages and as long as there is one King James Version of the Bible around today, she will fail miserably again.

Many thanks go to the Protestant Alliance in Bedford, England for the articles contained herein keeping the blood of the martyrs forever before us, lest we forget and believe the modern traitors to Christ who court Rome.

Martyrs Mirror

Martyrs Mirror also known as The Bloody Theater, was first published in Holland in the year 1660 by Thieleman J. van Braght. This massive book documents the tragic stories of Christians martyred (or murdered) by the Catholic Church, although that was done indirectly at times by the secular authorities under the control of the Vatican. The full title of the book is rather lengthy:
"The Bloody Theater or Martyrs Mirror of the Defenseless Christians who baptized only upon confession of faith, and who suffered and died for the testimony of Jesus, their Saviour, from the time of Christ to the year A.D. 1660". Here are some sources for this incredibly detailed book:
