

Gender Neutral Restroom Signs Parody

The U.S. National Institute Of Standards is looking for input from the American public regarding the best choice for a standard sign for gender neutral public restrooms. Please make your choice from the following 8 semi-final designs. Indicate your preferred sign number in the comment section below. Thank you for participating in this vitally important process. All responses are completely confidential. You have the NSA's word on that.

Yes, this is a parody.... What many view as the road to progress is in reality the highway to Hell.
