

Evolution's Hall Of Fame

Dedicated to people who are very sure that their ancestors were primates.

And maybe they are right, their ancestors were primates, because after all, any intelligent human being should know that it takes an Intelligent Designer to create an intelligent design, as we see everywhere we look in the world around us. I have yet to meet a chimp who prays or reads the Bible. Similarly, I have yet to meet a devout evolutionist who prays or reads the Bible either. The most ardent evolutionists tend to be the most committed atheists. No wonder that they have such religious zeal for promoting their religion (evolution). To acknowledge that their theories are ludicrous would force them to acknowledge their Creator... something their pride simply won't let them do. They prefer to think of themselves as autonomous beings who answer to no one except "science" and by science they mean their own inventions - childish ideas that comfort them in a world that they really don't understand - and don't want to understand if it means they will have to concede that the God of the Bible is real and that they will have to answer to Him someday.

A young Carl Sagan ponders the origins of life

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse..."
