

The Gay Lifestyle - A Destructive Sexual Disorientation

These fact-filled articles will shed some light on a highly censored subject, hopefully for the benefit of the many people who are actively engaged in this seriously self-destructive homosexual lifestyle. Obviously many homosexuals have been brainwashed by the mass media, society in general, the education system and by their own peers into thinking that any mention of a negative side to their lifestyle is just hate speech. This post is not for them.

This list of articles is for those who are not happy with their lifestyle and its consequences and its effects on their lives. So if you wish to find out about all that is being censored in the mainstream media regarding many deadly serious health issues and lifestyle consequences of homosexual activity, then you are urged to thoroughly investigate the following websites and web pages. To engage in homosexual activity without regards to the very real consequences, is to play Russian roulette with your life.
